O-type system

The O-type system was developed specifically for the pharmaceutical industry. It combines small gaps between the lines and block widths with secure retention of the types even with high cycle rates.

During printing, the pin retention makes it almost impossible for the types to fall out. To obtain consistently good printing results over the long term, we advise regular cleaning to remove ink residues and dirt. For this purpose, we offer a set of very effective cleaning brushes.

When treated regularly with lubricant, the clamp will continue to operate smoothly.

Special types

Special type holders are frequently required. In such cases, we respond attentively to your design requests: Your label needs to be imprinted at specific positions or you require very small line spacing.

We will be happy to advise you!
